TESTIMONIALS

"Finally - StrataFrame to the rescue! I have been looking for the best application framework in .NET for over 5 years now. The search was exhausting and rather discouraging. I found Trent Taylor, his team, and StrataFrame just in time! StrataFrame is easy to implement, very flexible, allows itself to be extended if necessary and does exactly what a good application framework should do...allow us to concentrate on designing the application. The StrataFrame team is awesome, responds to problems quickly and with enthusiasm, listens when we ask for additional functionality and truly understands that a framework isn't just something theoretical - they use it in their own production applications."
